The Administration

Someday this yearbook will represent almost all you remember of your experiences at Lakeside Jr. High School. As the years go by, most of your memories of these days will grow more and more dim, and the pages before you will recall them to your mind.

My hope is that the memories that remain the longest and the clearest are of busy days, productive days, happy days. May Lakeside be your springboard to a finer future.

Byron C. Jackson,
Principal

This year, Mr. Charles Hoffman had his title changed from Staff-assistant to Assistant Principal. He works with Mr. Jackson in administration and helps Miss Bourff in guidance. His other duties include supervising in the cafeteria and being advisor for Future Teachers Club.

These are our two secretaries, Mrs. Ruth Messerschmidt and Mrs. Evelyn Pelz. Every day they can be found in the office typing, looking up information, and handling the many minor emergencies that occur in a typical school. Mrs. Messerschmidt is also the school treasurer. Mrs. Peltz serves as the payroll clerk.

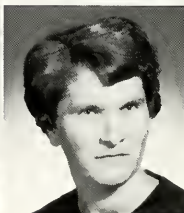

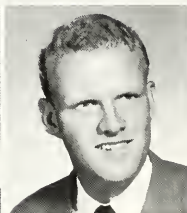

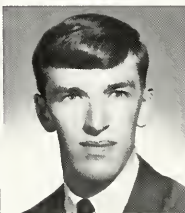

Miss Barbara Bourff became our fulltime guidance counselor this year. She spends her day helping and giving advice to Lakeside's students. She also helps make out schedules, heads the student affairs committee, and performs many other odd jobs.

O Gaudium! Sum iuvenis rursus! (Oh Joy! I'm young again!)

Personnel and Faculty and Students

Here are our Custodians who serve to keep our school clean and bright all day and all night. Sweeping the rooms and polishing the doors, picking up paper and erasing the boards. Cleaning the rooms and waxing the floors always working evermore. Here is a rare shot of them all at rest. They are from left to right: Carl Bryant, Herman Leichty, Mrs. Dellinger, Ray Deal, and Clyde Hamrick.

Here are our cafeteria Assistants ever so bold, fighting off flying food and sponges we're told. Patrolling the cafeteria to restore order at noon. To keep us quiet as not to disturb other rooms. Checking the tables to see if they're clean. Watching the people that are making a scene, singing popping paper bags and other things I mean.

Here they stand last but not least, our lunchroom ladies all ready and neat. Fixing meals that are fit for a King. Hoping we will all lick our plates clean. Mixing and baking all morning long but, ready to serve when the seventh graders come along. Serving continuously till the ninth graders are through. We are fortunate to have such a good cooking crew. They are, from left to right: Janita Berryhill, Lenora Block, Kathleen Lefevra, Alice Richards, Jean Walker, Dorothy Booth, Rosemary Stebing, and Hazel Hartley (Manager).

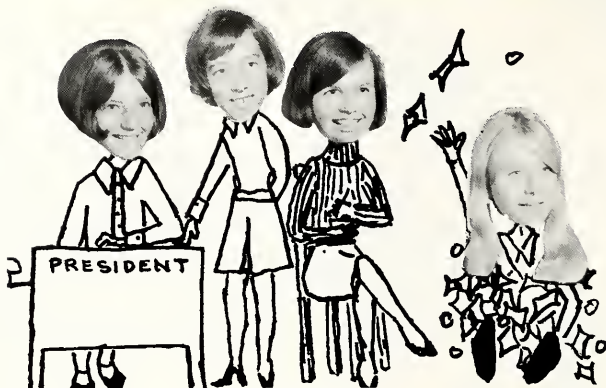

STUDENTS

The Lancers live,
learn and laugh.
They learn from others. They laugh
when and where it's appropriate. Spirit friendliness and sportsmanship are deep in every Lancer heart.

Freshmen Are Successful

Feminine, fun-loving, and optimistic (!), that's our class leaders. Betsy Schaefer, Tami Zahn, Nancy Misslehorn, and Marilyn Derr compose the all-girl team for our foolish frivolous, but fun-loving and frolicsome freshman class.

Cheerleaders

Pictured above are the Varsity cheerleaders for this year. These girls, guided by Mrs. Rinne, did a great job for us, not only by cheering at the games, but by putting up posters and organizing pep sessions. I am sure you will agree that we picked the finest girls for this year's squad. From left to right are: Betty Boxley, Lynn Derr, Barb Bowman, Tami Zahn, and Gayle Brinker.

This year Mrs. Rinne tried something new with the 8th grade cheerleaders. She divided the girls into two groups, the "talls" and the "shorts". This is a good idea because it gives more girls a chance to make the squad.

These girls comprise the tall squad: Cheri Burd, Kim Schmidt, Debbie Smith, Bev Christman, and Cheryl Schieferstein.

The day starts at 7:55 and lasts until 2:50. Classroom work has been packed into 6 fifty-five minute periods in a day. In many classes part of each period is devoted to work on the next day's assignment. In this way students can get individual help from the teacher.

CLASSES

Mrs. Kimmel teaches the 9th grade students the basic structure of Algebra. "Algebra is easy—Algebra is fun so say some."

Mrs. Stover's math students observe mathematical principles in constructing Christmas ornaments. "Looks more like art than math; but oh what fun."

Mrs. Davis our study hall supervisor to the 9th graders watch as her students are actually studying? Hah!!

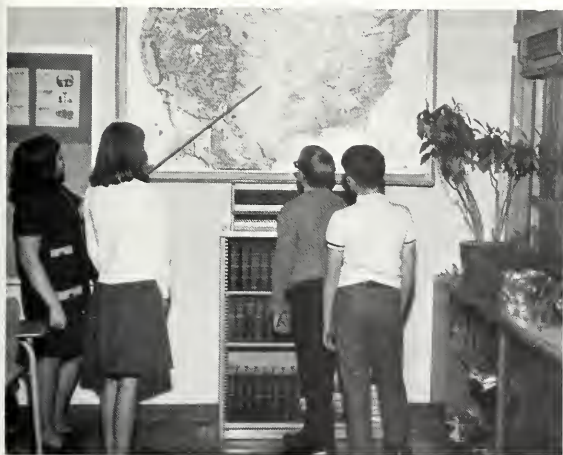

History

Eighth grade history is attractive to students because they learn interesting and helpful facts concerning the founding of their country.

Geography

Geography, a seventh grade course, is taught to acquaint students with people and the land they live in. They also spend a few weeks in an interesting study of Indiana history.

Library

During the seventh grade, students spend a number of weeks learning the basics of the library and how to make the best use of it. It is open to all students desiring to check out books or study.

Health

Students in Mrs. Anderson's ninth grade health class learn about human behavior and the functions of the body. They also take nine weeks of drivers' training.

Science

Look into the microscope, and what do you see? The world of science. That's what the students explore every day, in their science classes.

Biology

Biology, taught by Mr. Schoeff and Mr. Howe, is a ninth grade elective. It is the study of plant and animal life. Students are required to make a leaf collection, an insect collection, and a science project or term paper.

Art

Art students learn to develop their artistic skills and learn new forms of art in Mrs. Milton's art class.

Instrumental Music

Students in Mr. Warkentin's instrumental music classes practice and learn new pieces to play for concerts, contests, ball games, and formal ensembles.

Vocal Music

In Mr. Muth's General Music Class students learn about different instruments and different types of music. They also learn to improve their own musical ability.

Home Ec

Miss French and class look at the display of several girls aprons. Foods is also part of the 8th grade Home Ec. schedule besides Clothing.

Home Arts

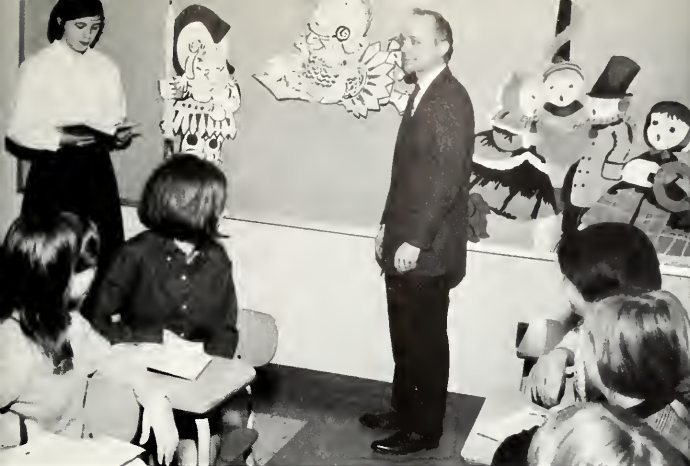

In Home Arts class several 7th grade students observe the display of mixing faucets. Other subjects are: learning about repair work in the home and piping.

Shop

Here eighth grade boys of the Industrial Arts class observe a display of tools. These boys do many different things in wood-working.

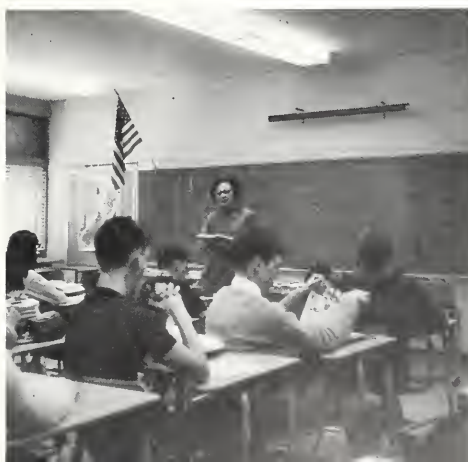

Latin

Spanish

Mrs. Petroff's Spanish students fix the bulletin board adjusting it to fit the atmosphere of the class subject.

French

Miss Hartzell and her students review their French together.

French is one of our three languages offered by Lakeside for our ninth graders.

Language Arts

Students in Mr. Lowe's 8th grade Language Arts class enjoy delving into the world of English by learning the parts of speech, and all of the other areas of English.

Developmental Reading

Pictured are a few of Mrs. Rinne's eager students working with the SRA Reading Laboratory. In the 7th grade, students learn helpful reading and studying habits.

Developmental Language

Here is a typical discussion in Mr. Gardner's exciting Developmental Language class. The 8th grade students learn how to gain poise in front of an audience, and develop their ability in writing compositions.

Citizenship

In the Citizenship class, a 9th grade elective taught by Mr. Howe, students begin to understand more fully the government of our country and the responsibilities of each citizen towards it.

Gym

In all of the girls' gym classes, energetic students practice and learn skills in tumbling, volleyball, basketball, track, and general body conditioning.

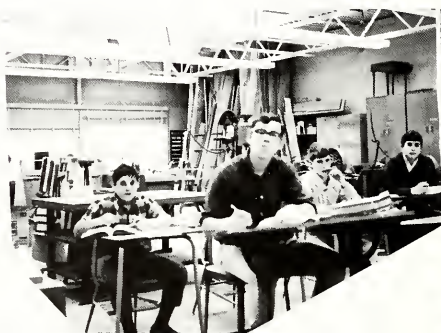

In boy's gym classes they practice skills in various sports; basketball, track, football, volleyball.

Could these people possibly be camera conscious?

Delicious isn't it.

Look at the book Mike!

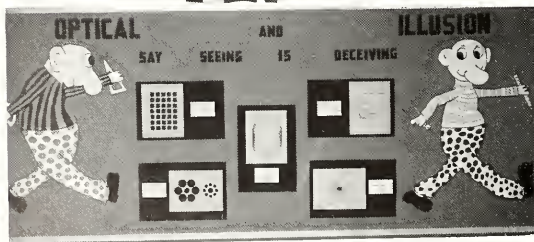

OOPS!

Work, work, work that's all we

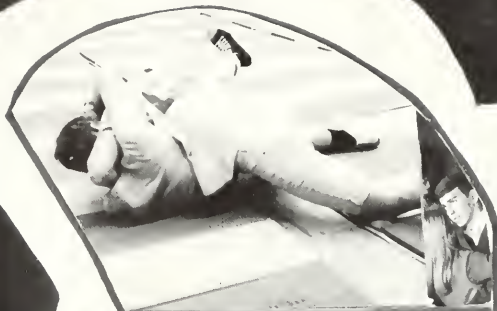

We have them at Lakeside too!

Am I seeing things or are you?

We want a VICTORY too!

By participating in various clubs Lancers enrich their lives. The students may increase their amount of friends, learn how to cooperate with others, and realize responsibilities to other organizations. Hidden talents may be found and other interests broadened by participating in these activities.

The Lakesider Staff (above)

PEP CLUB—With the help of Mrs. Kimmel, the Pep club instilled greater school spirit and helped our cheerleaders.

CHESS CLUB—Mr. Crum taught chess skills to these boys.

TYPING CLUB—Students learned helpful typing habits under Mrs. Stein's supervision.

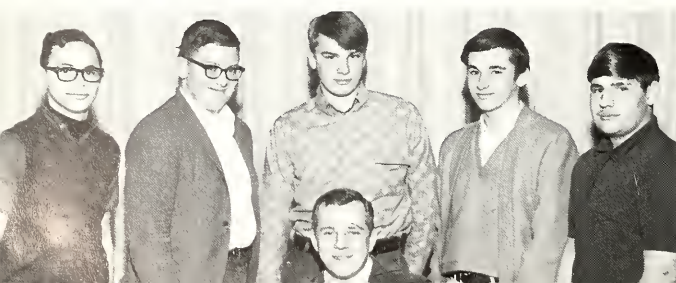

World Affairs Club: Pictured above are the members of the World Affairs Club. This club, led by Mr. Weiland, discusses the pressing problems of the world today. For information on Vietnam, the presidential campaign, or any other issue, just ask anyone in the World Affairs Club.

Shop Club. The shop club is for anyone who is interested in doing something constructive with wood and metal. The club is under the direction of Mr. Lubbehusen, and its members, shown at the left, make useful items for home and school.

Throughout the year, they've done a swell job of keeping the library running in its normal, smooth manner.

Future Teacher's Club: The Future Teacher's Club is a new club this year. They have gone on excursions, have seen films, and have held discussions on many various topics. They are led by their sponsors, Miss Bourff and Mr. Hoffman.
